

ATTENTION:

Bishop Tuto to speak at Essex County College - a leader in Black freedom -

have you heard?

BISHOP DESMOND TUTU, Bishop of Lesotho, South Africa will speak at Essex County College on Friday, February 25th at 3:00 p.m.
Desmond Tutu lived in Soweto, South Africa prior to his consecration. His voice was the one voice who could see what was coming and who warned a deaf administration. He is one of the leading voices of the Anglican Communion in the Third World.

Bishop Tutu will speak on South African Affairs and answer questions. His presence on campus should be of great interest to many, particularly, political science, sociology, history, philosophy and religion departments of the College.

The meeting with Bishop Tutu will be held in the 300 Seat Auditorium on the second level at the main entrance to campus. We shall begin promptly at 3:00 p.m. His visit with us is a result of his trip to visit the Episcopal Church in the United States, part of the Anglican Communion.

This program is being sponsored by the Chaplains at Essex County College
